Imagina dreams up European deals

Globomedia-owned Spanish distributor Imagina International Sales has inked deals across western Europe for local versions of its TV series El Internado, Los Hombres de Paco and Cuenta Atrás.

A French version of Globomedia's television series El Internado is being adapted by producers Marathon and Leonis Production-Gaumont to air on M6. The adaptation is currently being filmed in a castle on the outskirts of Paris.

The pilot of the series, to be called L'Internat, will air on primetime, and will be the first time an adapted Spanish television series has aired during peak viewing hours in France, according to Imagina. The sixth season of El Internado will debut this autumn on Spanish commercial network Antena 3.

Elsewhere, an Italian adaptation of Los Hombres De Paco is being produced by Endemol Italia and Mediavivere. Filming has already started on the series, which will be called Tutti per Bruno. Its debut is anticipated for January 2010 on Mediaset-owned Canale 5.

Finally, All3Media-owned producer MME/Filmpool has bought the rights to adapt Cuenta Atrás, to air on RTL in what Imagina claims will be the first adaptation of a Spanish series for German television.

Filming of the first seven episodes has already begun and will last until November, with transmission anticipated for 2010.
